

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Lambertville Station Restaurant and Inn Hosting Fall Fest

Lambertville, NJ, August 19, 2022 – Lambertville Station Restaurant and Inn, a member of Genesis Hospitality, will host its first annual Fall Fest Saturday, October 22 and Sunday, October 23, 2022. This free festival is open to the public and welcomes fun-seekers from 10 am – 6 pm, rain or shine.

Experience two days full of fall fun along the banks of the Delaware River. The Station's Fall Fest community celebration will offer games, family activities, delicious food, a beer garden, and live music. Take in the brilliant foliage and breathtaking views as you browse through tables of local businesses, vendors and artisans showcasing their unique services, products, and creative arts and crafts.

This Fall Fest will take place on the grounds of the Lambertville Station Restaurant and Inn, a historic restored 19th-century train station located at 11 Bridge St, Lambertville, New Jersey. Named the most picturesque small town in New Jersey by USA Today and one of America's 15 prettiest towns by Forbes, Lambertville is a quaint town that sits right along the Delaware River in Hunterdon County, NJ. It is about an hour's drive from Philadelphia and North Jersey and a short walk over the bridge that connects New Hope, PA, to Lambertville, providing an Instagram-worthy photo-op.

To learn more about this festival and the available spaces for vendors and food trucks, visit the Lambertville Station Restaurant and Inn website at www.lambertvillestation.com.
